Craig R. Amason - Executive Director
 Rotarian of the day: Keith Drinkwater

Last Meeting - July 15th

Program: Sandy Baxter
 President Fred introduced the program, Sandy Baxter of the Oconee Valley Chapter of the American Red Cross. She arrived in November and since that time, a disaster team has been created that has helped with victims of fires by establishing shelters. Seventy individuals have been trained in the disaster classes and the Disaster Plan is being revised. The chapter's headquarters at 1131 N.

Sandy Baxter and President Fred Van Horn

Jefferson is being refurbished with the help of volunteers and local merchants. Monthly training is provided in First Aid, CPR, and AED (Automatic External Defibrillator). A recent robbery at the headquarters has created the need for office supplies, televisions and VCR's and a number of other items.

Rotarian of the day: David McMillan

ROTARY'S FOUNDERS BEING HONORED THE MONTH OF JULY

Founder biographies

Paul P. Harris (1868-1947) was a Chicago attorney in 1905 when he had an idea for a club in which professionals could share "mutual cooperation and informal friendship such as all of had once known in our villages." On the evening of Thursday, 23 February 1905, Harris gathered three business acquaintances to form a group that became the Rotary Club of Chicago, initiating the world's first service organization. Harris became the first president of what would later become Rotary International, the association of Rotary clubs around the world with 1.2 million members united under the motto Service Above Self.

Silvester Schiele (1870-1945) was a coal dealer and a client of Paul Harris in 1905. Born in rural Indiana, Schiele liked to tell Harris interesting anecdotes of his "young pioneer" boyhood. During the course of their business dealings, Harris first shared the idea with Schiele for a new kind of club for professionals. On 23 February 1905, Harris invited Schiele for dinner to develop his ideas of a fellowship and booster club. In addition to becoming first president of the Rotary Club of Chicago, Schiele developed a close lifelong friendship with Harris.

Gustavus H. "Gus" Loehr (1864-1918) was a Chicago mining engineer who lent his office on the seventh floor of the Unity Building at 127 Dearborn Street in Chicago for the first gathering of the founders of Rotary on 23 February 1905. Loehr invited Hiram Shorey to this meeting. His health later deteriorated and he left the club, but remained a supporter of Rotary until his death at age 53.

Hiram E. Shorey (1862-1944) was a merchant tailor in 1905. One of the founding four members of the Rotary Club of Chicago, he remained a Rotarian for only a short time before moving back to his home state of Maine. Upon his later return to Chicago, he rejoined for a brief time before resigning again. Despite his brief membership, Shorey was always supportive of the Rotary Club of Chicago and voiced pride at his early association with Rotary.
